GOVERNOR TOMBLIN CALLS SPECIAL SESSION ON BUDGET

Gov. Earl Ray Tomblin is calling lawmakers back into session to work on a long-delayed budget. The special session to enact the 2016-17 West Virginia budget will begin next week, despite a lack of consensus in the Legislature on how to close a $270 million funding shortfall. The session will begin just 45 days before a potential shutdown of state services if there is no budget approved when the new budget year begins July 1. In a rare move, the Legislature adjourned the 2016 regular session on March 15 without passing the state budget bill, as the House and Senate could not agree on ways to close shortfalls in the current budget and 2016-17 budget, which begins July 1. In the regular session, Tomblin had proposed raising $130 million in new revenue with an increase in the state tobacco tax and the introduction of sales taxes on telecommunications services. Neither house advanced the sales tax proposal, while the Senate passed a tobacco tax increase bill, a bill that was soundly defeated in the House Finance Committee.

BILL COLE AND JIM JUSTICE TURN EFFORTS TO NOVEMBER GENERAL ELECTION

Democrat Jim Justice will face Republican Bill Cole in the November gubernatorial race. Justice defeated fellow Democratic challengers Booth Goodwin and Jeff Kessler in Tuesday’s primary election. Justice had 51% of the vote compared to 25 percent for Goodwin and 23 percent for Kessler. Cole was unopposed on the Republican ticket. Voter turnout was 40 percent, the highest number in recent years. Most attribute that to the popularity of presidential candidate Donald Trump. Trump ran unopposed on the Republican ticket. Bernie Sanders soundly defeated Hillary Clinton, who was booed when she appeared last week in Logan County for her comments against coal. Sanders won by a 51 to 36 margin.

In West Virginia Legislative races, most every incumbent won their primary election race and will be on the ballot in November. Sen. Art Kirkendoll, D-Logan, was defeated in his reelection bid by Richard Ojeda, a veteran who previously ran for Congress against Rep. Nick Rahall. Rahall won the primary and was defeated in the general election by state Senator Evan Jenkins. Bob Ashley, a long-term Roane County delegate, was appointed to fill the vacant seat of retiring Sen. David Nohe, R-Wood. Sen. Ashley decided to run for the seat currently held by Sen. Donna Boley, R-Pleasant, instead of for Sen. Nohe's unexpired term. Sen. Boley won 55 percent to 22 percent. Most ever delegate running for reelection won their respective race.

Beth Walker won a seat on the West Virginia Supreme Court, which is now a non-partisan election. She had a decisive victory over current Supreme Court Justice Brent Benjamin and former Justice Darrell McGraw. She won by a margin of 17 percent over McGraw and 28 percent over Benjamin. Other candidates in the race were former state Senator Bill Wooten and Wayne King.
Representatives Evan Jenkins, R-Third District, and David McKinley, R-First District, had no primary opposition but they will have opponents in November. Rep. Alex Mooney, R-Second District, defeated primary opponent Mark Savitt by a wide margin. He will face Charleston lawyer Mark Hunt who defeated four candidates on the Democratic ballot.

The Meadows Course

The course shares a massive double green on the 18th hole with The Greenbrier Course and is a true test of skill. Many regional and state championships are contested on it annually. The Meadows Course, along with The Greenbrier Course and The Old White Course, the two other championship, 18-hole courses, begins and ends at the Golf Club.

Three championship courses on property

As in past years the CAWV will hold its Golf Tournament on the Meadows Course.

The Meadows Course was originally built in 1962 as a nine-hole course. It was located in an area that had long been known as the “meadows,” alongside a meandering stream on The Greenbrier’s 6,500 acre estate.

The course was dramatically updated in 1999. It now offers very challenging play from the blue and gold tees and an enjoyable, forgiving golf experience from the shorter white or red tees.

CAPITO AND MANCHIN ANNOUNCE MORE THAN $5 MILLION IN FUNDING TO SUPPORT RENOVATION PROJECTS FOR SIX WEST VIRGINIA HEALTH CENTERS

U.S. Senators Shelley Moore Capito and Joe Manchin announced this week $5,285,486 in federal funding for six health centers throughout West Virginia. According to the Department of Health and Human Services, these grants will help approximately 10,776 patients in need. The funding will be used to renovate and update facilities in order to accommodate more patients and increase access to care.

“In West Virginia, local health centers are critically important to the wellbeing of our rural and underserved communities,” said Senator Capito. “The facility updates and renovations that will result from this funding will expand access to care and improve treatment. Not only will these health centers have better resources to address the demands in each community, this funding will also help strengthen efforts to promote better overall health for West Virginians.”

“This important funding will help ensure that our health center facilities across West Virginia are renovated, expanded and constructed to provide exceptional healthcare services to our communities,” Senator Manchin said. “Our health centers will be able to treat more patients and provide comprehensive primary and preventative care to those in underserved areas. These centers play such an important role in the health and safety of West Virginians and we must make sure they are able to meet the needs of our communities.”

PROTECTING WORKERS FROM HEAT STRESS- PART TWO

Exposure to heat can cause illness and death. The most serious heat illness is heat stroke. Other heat illnesses such as heat exhaustion, heat cramps and heat rash, should also be avoided. There are precautions employers should take any time temperatures are high and the job involves physical work.

HOW YOU CAN PROTECT YOURSELF AND OTHERS

Know signs/symptoms of heat illnesses, monitor yourself, use a buddy system. Block out direct sun and other heat sources. Drink plenty of fluids. Drink often and BEFORE you are thirsty. Avoid beverages containing alcohol or caffeine. Wear lightweight, light colored, loose-fitting clothes. Be aware that poor physical condition, some health problems (such as high blood pressure or diabetes), pregnancy, colds and flu, and some medication can increase your personal risk. If you are under treatment, ask your healthcare provider.

WHAT TO DO WHEN A WORKER IS ILL FROM THE HEAT

Call a supervisor for help. If the supervisor is not available, call 911. Have someone stay with the worker until help arrives. Move the worker to a cooler/shaded area. Remove outer clothing. Fan and mist the worker with water, apply ice (ice bags or towels). Provide cool drinking water, if able to drink.

Contact the CAWV at (304)342-1166 for assistance with your safety program.

The Associated General Contractors (AGC) of America is collaborating with ClickSafety, an OSHA-authorized provider, to deliver a wide range of construction related safety courses online for members at a 10% discount. GOVERNOR ANNOUNCES PLAN TO DEVELOP HOBET SITE IN BOONE COUNTY

West Virginia Commerce Secretary Keith Burdette says the state can build a “world competitive site” for business development at the new Hobet project in Boone County. Burdette joined Gov. Earl Ray Tomblin and others at the former mountaintop removal mining site just off U.S. Route 119 to announce the first phase of the project that will use reclaimed land to entice businesses to come to West Virginia and existing businesses to expand there. The first phase of the project will include the construction of a 2.6 mile four-lane highway from the U.S. Route 119-Route 3 intersection up the mountain. Request for Qualifications for the two-step design build and Public-Private-Partnership has been submitted to BidX for the Boone County Mine Access on June 15, 2016. Bids for the design-build project will be opened in October with construction to begin next March.

Marshall University is helping map the property while WVU will help the state market it and develop a master plan. The West Virginia Economic Development Authority will hold the land titles from local landowners, some of which who have already agreed to turn over the property to the state. With the location less than 30 miles from Charleston where three interstates converge, Burdette believes they can recruit businesses to Hobet. The state is working with its congressional delegation and the federal government to secure grant monies for the project.

MEETING SET TO DISCUSS WIDENING OF PORTION OF I-64 IN PUTNAM COUNTY

About six miles of Interstate 64 between Charleston and Winfield would be widened under a proposal state transportation officials will discuss in Putnam County next week. The proposed improvements include widening the stretch of highway from the Crooked Creek exit (Exit 39) to east of Nitro (Exit 45) and a new second truss bridge over the Kanawha River. The 3.79 miles of interstate is between two existing six-lane sections of I-64. The state Division of Highways will hold an informational workshop Tuesday at Rock Branch Elementary School from 4 to 7 p.m. DOH spokeswoman Carrie Bly said there will not be a formal presentation, and workers will be available to answer questions in a non-intimidating, one-on-one format. The public will also receive an informational handout where they will be able to provide written comments on the project. Bly was unsure of the project timeline, such as when construction would start, but said that information will be available to the public at the meeting. Concerns and comments from the public are being accepted. For anyone who wants to provide a written comment, mail a letter to RJ Scites, P.E., Director, Engineering Division, West Virginia Division of Highways, 1334 Smith Street, Charleston, West Virginia 25301 on or before Tuesday, June 21, 2016.
